

IraqAttack

A Lad from Tad and The Train Crash Shakers

Musical Credits

Paul Shearsmith - vocals and trumpet
Ellie Howitt - vocals
Matt Button - drums
Chris Grayson - bass
Dawn Titmus - alto sax
Richard Bremmer - tenor sax
John Strutton - charango
Steve Kellet - guitar
Allan Miller - guitar
Words by Paul Shearsmith
Arranged and Mixed by Chris Grayson
Recorded at deMonk V studios, London 2005

DVD, Video & Web Credits

URL: <http://www.z360.com/demo>
Photography and Production: Douglas Cape
Email: douglas@z360.com

Contact

Paul Shearsmith
Telephone: 020 7424 0772
Email: paul@echocity.co.uk

Kerba Victor - Young Socialist Music Review

The single 'IraqAttack' is a truly revolutionary song. The lyrics are very conscious of what is going on in the world. The singer's voice sounds like a mixture between Louis Armstrong and the father in Shameless. The track has an incredible backing sound, an insane whirlwind of noise that makes Pink Floyd seem tame. It is a great blues and rock number about our politicians being full of lies and deception. One of my favourite lines is:

"Tell me Tony Blair
How do you sleep at night
With Iraq in plight"

It shows these leaders for what they are, a bunch of con-men and con-women. In the background we can hear the chaos of war. Paul Shearsmith, who wrote this song, is a very inspirational talent who understands the system and how it works.