

Making Ends Meet

Crisan, Danube Delta, Romania

Cristina Anghelachi

Cristina is from Tulcea but she is working in Mila 23, as a lab assistant at the water treatment plant there. She used to be a teacher at the school there.

Cristina is a Romanian, ethnically, unlike the Russian Lipoveni of Mila 23. She doesn't find it easy working there. She sees the people of Mila 23 as closed, unwelcoming to outsiders – whether they are working in the community or are visiting, on holiday. This means that it is difficult for someone like her to live there, since she can't get to know the local people.
